1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

2       (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3           (1) The use of computers and the Internet is 4       rapidly transforming societal interactions and the re-5       lationships among citizens, private businesses, and 6       the Government.

7           (2) The Federal Government has had uneven
8       success in applying advances in information tech-
9       nology to enhance Governmental functions and serv-
10      ices, achieve more efficient performance, and in-
11      crease access to Government information and citizen
12      participation in Government.

13          (3) Most Internet-based services of the Federal
14      Government are developed and presented separately,
15      according to the jurisdictional boundaries of an indi-
16      vidual department or agency, rather than being inte-
17      grated cooperatively according to function.

18          (4) Internet-based Government services involv-
19      ing interagency cooperation are especially difficult to 20      develop and promote, in part because of a lack of 21      funding mechanisms to support such interagency co-
22      operation.

1           (5) To take full advantage of the improved Gov-
2           ernment performance that can be achieved through 3           the use of Internet-based technology requires new 4           leadership; better organization; improved interagency
5           collaboration; and more focused oversight of agency
6           compliance with statutes related to information re-
7           source management.

8           (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are the fol-
9           lowing:

10           (1) To provide effective leadership of Federal 11           Government efforts to develop and promote elec-
12           tronic Government services and processes by estab-
13           lishing a Federal Chief Information Officer within 14           the Office of Management and Budget.

15           (2) To establish measures that require using 16           Internet-based information technology to enhance 17           citizen access to Government information and serv-
18           ices; improve Government efficiency and reduce Gov-
19           ernment operating costs; and increase opportunities
20           for citizen participation in Government.

21           (3) To promote interagency collaboration in 22           providing electronic Government services; where this 23           collaboration would improve the service to citizens by 24           integrating related function.

1           (4) To promote interagency collaboration in the 2       use of internal electronic Government processes;
 3       where this collaboration would improve the efficiency
 4       and effectiveness of the processes.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

2       (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3               (1) The use of computers and the Internet is rap-
4       idly transforming societal interactions and the rela-
5       tionships among citizens, private businesses, and the
6       Government.

7               (2) The Federal Government has had uneven suc-
8       cess in applying advances in information technology
9       to enhance governmental functions and services,

1        achieve more efficient performance, increase access to
2        Government information, and citizen participation in
3        Government.

4            (3) Most Internet-based services of the Federal
5        Government are developed and presented separately,
6        according to the jurisdictional boundaries of an indi-
7        vidual department or agency, rather than being inte-
8        grated cooperatively according to function.

9            (4) Internet-based Government services involving 10       interagency cooperation are especially difficult to de-
11       velop and promote, in part because of a lack of suffi-
12       cient funding mechanisms to support such inter-
13       agency cooperation.

14           (5) Electronic Government has its impact
15       through improved Government performance and out-
16       comes within and across agencies.

17           (6) Electronic Government is a critical element
18       in the management of Government, to be implemented
19       as part of a management framework that also ad-
20       dresses finance, procurement, human capital, and 21       other challenges to improve the performance of Gov-
22       ernment.

23           (7) To take full advantage of the improved Gov-
24       ernment performance that can be achieved through the 25       use of Internet-based technology requires new leader-

1       ship, better organization, improved interagency col-
2       laboration, and more focused oversight of agency com-
3       pliance with statutes related to information resource
4       management.

5       (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are the fol-
6       lowing:

7               (1) To provide effective leadership of Federal
8       Government efforts to develop and promote electronic 9       Government services and processes by establishing an 10       Administrator of a new Office of Electronic Govern-
11       ment within the Office of Management and Budget.

12               (2) To promote use of the Internet and other in-
13       formation technologies to provide increased opportu-
14       nities for citizen participation in Government.

15               (3) To promote interagency collaboration in pro-
16       viding electronic Government services, where this col-
17       laboration would improve the service to citizens by 18       integrating related functions, and in the use of inter-
19       nal electronic Government processes, where this col-
20       laboration would improve the efficiency and effective-
21       ness of the processes.

22               (4) To improve the ability of the Government to 23       achieve agency missions and program performance
24       goals.

1           (5) To promote the use of the Internet and
 2           emerging technologies within and across Government
 3           agencies to provide citizen-centric services.

4           (6) To reduce costs and burdens for businesses
 5           and other Government entities.

6           (7) To promote better informed decisionmaking
 7           by policy makers.

8           (8) To promote access to high quality informa-
 9           tion and services across multiple channels, available
 10          to customers through the channels which are preferred
 11          by the customer.

12          (9) To make the Federal Government more trans-
 13          parent and accountable.
